14. Quality Assurance Procedures

In line with its mission to deliver world class educational experience and promote academic development in the Kurdistan Region, Tishk International University has embraced the process of Quality Assurance (QA) into its education system. Although slightly developed, the process of Quality Assurance was first introduced with the establishment of the University in 2008. However, with the full implementation of Quality Assurance system at Kurdistan public universities and as instructed by Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research in the Kurdistan Regional Government (KRG), a more solid and structured implementation of the process was executed in 2011 in the University.

The process of Quality Assurance is one sphere of quality management, and in higher education, the process of QA helps to enhance the development of education system in relation to teaching, learning and research. This is performed through consistent monitoring and assessment procedures and through appropriate tools that are purpose-designed.

At Tishk International University, under the process of Quality Assurance several programs are functioning. These include Teaching Quality Assurance (TQA), program and curriculum development, ranking, benchmarking, program assessment and auditing; processes that uphold the core values of Tishk International University. In this guideline these processes, and more specifically the components of TQA as implemented at Tishk International University, are outlined and elaborated in detail. These processes are systematized and monitored by the Quality Assurance unit which oversees the ongoing implementation of the other interconnected processes and in connection with the relevant unit or department, where necessary. The three key assessment procedures employed by the department take in student feedback, Teacher Portfolio and Continuous Academic Development (CAD). These procedures serve as a method to assess teaching activity and efficiency of courses taught, and they enhance teaching staff's knowledge and academic proficiency. The efficiency of these procedures and assessment tools are periodically reviewed and updated for better outcomes. It is worth noting that within Tishk International University the term Quality Assurance and TQA are interchangeable to some extent.

14.1 Academic Portfolio

The teaching portfolio effectively enables instructors to reflect upon, describe, and document their teaching philosophy, goals, major strengths, and achievements. Refer to the link below to see what academic portfolio includes.

<http://www.tiu.edu.iq/qa/teachers-portfolio/>

Quality Assurance Unit is free to set a schedule to discuss the academic performance of staff. Academic Portfolio files, which are prepared by the respective instructor and stored by the Head of Department, represent an important element of the Tishk International University study programs. Information on the conduct of the course during the semester, on the topics covered and on the student performance evaluation should be included in a systematic way in the files. The preparation of the course files and their storage by the Heads of Departments is an indispensable element to ensure a sustainable quality in the teaching process.

The course files may be prepared electronically in the website. In such a case, a printout may be taken at the end of the semester and will be archived as a file. The University will not carry out any financial transaction for the instructors of the courses that do not have their respective course file. Attendance at Workshops and Conferences With the purpose of self development and keeping up the highest level in their respective sciences, teachers should be given the opportunity to attend the Workshop and Scientific Conference and care should be taken to assist them in this endeavor. All academic staff must participate in the conferences in their respective fields organized by Tishk International University.

14.2 Question Bank

Question Bank consists of a set of questions the teacher will give to students at least 2 weeks before starting final examination. The teacher may take some questions out of the question bank (for example, 4-5 questions). The purpose of question bank lies in the fact that it guarantees more understanding of student for the course and it is applied at many developed universities in the world. At departments that have semester system the number of question is around 40, and at departments that have annual system the number of questions is around 80.

15. Quality Management System

Quality Management System (QMS) Unit at Tishk University aims to contribute in achieving the vision of the university to be “a leading university in the country and the region”.

The QMS Unit has been established to ensure the quality of both the educational and administrative services at Tishk University through both applying international standards of quality management.

The University is certified by the by Bureau Veritas Certification Holding SAS-UK Branch with ISO 9001:2015 certificate. The Certificate is accredited by the United Kingdom Accreditation Services Body (UKAS).

By being certified with ISO 9001:2015 certificate, it has been attested that the Management System of TIU has been audited and found to be in accordance with the requirements of the ISO 9001:2015 International Management System Standard.

By adopting ISO 9001:2015 System, it is ensured that TIU meets the student's expectations. Also, it implies that the University performs at a high level and provides quality educational services throughout.

15.1 Pre-Graduation Surveys

By the end of each academic year, ISO Office applies Pre-Graduation Survey on 4th/5th grade students who have passed almost all the courses at the Academic Department. The purpose of this survey is to solicit, in a completely confidential manner, information about the students' satisfaction with their experience of education at Tishk International. This information is combined with other university data and used for improving and raising the quality of education at Tishk International University.

The questions of the survey are designed according to the Program Learning Outcomes of each study program, therefore, the surveys of the programs are different from each other's and are special for each program.

Also, other questions are set to obtain the students feedback regarding the followings: the assessment methods applied, the student support, the learning resources, the most well-taught courses, the number of elective courses.

In addition, the questionnaire involves some questions about the best taught courses during the study period.

15.2 Alumni Surveys

This survey is aimed to evaluate the overall educational experience of the students at TIU, and to know to which extent the University is preparing the students to be employed in the job market. Also, this survey assesses the current employment, education, and life status of TIU graduates. This survey is applied by ISO Office and Alumni Office annually.

15.3 Risk Assessment

Annually, the ISO Office applies Risk and Opportunity Management Evaluation which is a systematic investigation and analysis of potential risks. Here the "risks" represent any potentials that may impede the achievement of the Program Objectives and Programs Learning Outcomes, whereas, the "Opportunities" are any potentials that boost the achievements of them. Risks are managed with a focus on decreasing their likelihood, and minimizing their impact if they should occur. Opportunities are managed to increase their likelihood, and to maximize their benefits if they should occur. If the resulted Risk Factor is bigger than the "Risk Rating Limit" (which is the minimum risk score which will trigger a MANDATORY mitigation plan), a Mitigation Plan is set to avoid the consequences.

15.4 Evaluation of Quality Objectives Achievement

At the beginning of each academic year, the ISO Office tracks the achievement of Quality Objectives of each study program at Tishk International University and reports the results to the University Council.

15.5 Internal ISO Quality Auditing Cycles

As a requirement of applying ISO 9001, at least one Internal Quality Audit is conducted in year in the University during the ISO Certification period (which is three years). In June 2015 the University has been awarded with ISO 9001:2008 for three years (till June 2017). Then the University Upgraded the Quality Management System to ISO 9001:2015 in July 2017 to be awarded with the ISO 9001:2015 Certificate in May 2018. The audit covers most of the academic and non-academic Departments in the University starting from Top Management down to outsourced services. The Internal quality audits are conducted to ensure ongoing compliance with requirements of the ISO 9001 QMS standards, the University's policies and procedures. This is accomplished by auditing against all important processes and areas, and by applying all applicable sections of the ISO standard. Audit requirements include those of ISO 9001, the University's quality system documentation, as well as requirements of customers or regulatory authorities, as applicable. Also, the Audit insures that all the programs and units are working according to the written procedures and that the required resources are provided.

At the end of the Internal Quality Audit, the ISO Office prepares a Report of the Audit Findings provided with the Nonconformities (NC.) (The Nonconformity is any instance where practice or evidence does not comply with requirements).

The findings are discussed in the Management Review Meeting and Corrective Actions are decided.

The Corrective Actions are communicated to the concerned Units for implementation. 3 months later, the ISO Office follows up the progress of the Corrective Action and issues a Nonconformity Closing Report for each closed nonconformity.

15.6 ISO External Audit

The External Quality Audit is applied by the ISO Certification Body during the Certification Assessment and also is conducted annually during the Surveillance Audits. In May 2018 TIU was awarded with the ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management Certification. In May 2019, the University was subjected to the First Surveillance Audit and to the Second Surveillance Audit in August 2020 by the Lead Auditors of Bureau Veritas Certification Holding SAS-UK Branch.

The objectives of this audit as stated in the Audit Report are:

Employees should notify their administrative units if there are any changes or corrections to their name, email address, home address, primary telephone number, marital status, emergency contact, or beneficiary. Forms to process a change in personal information can be obtained from the personnel office under the office of Administrative Vice President.

35. Pay and Compensation

a. Payroll: Professional and paraprofessional staff members receive their pay in twelve (12) equal monthly payments based upon the total contracted salary. Base payments for full-time professional and paraprofessional staff members, substitute instructors, hourly and part-time staff members will cover the period between the first days of two consecutive months. Payments will be processed manually from the office of accounting within the first 5 calendar days every month. Base salaries will not change unless the accounting is specifically informed by the administrative units to do otherwise. Generally, these specific conditions are as follows; If there is a position change or an increase in pay, then accounting must be informed by the presidency to alter the base salary payment. Another occasion is, for both full-time and part-time employees if the absences of leaves exceed the allowed, permitted amount, thus have to be deducted from the salary then either the directors or the deans must inform the accounting. Please note that tardiness may translate into the absence of leave under certain conditions. For details, please refer to the related chapter. For the purposes of payroll, full time personnel are defined as anyone who works for the full 5.5 days stated "the work hours" section of this book. Any substitute, extra duty, hourly and overtime (for nonexempt employees) payments accrued after three weeks in the current month will be included in following month's payroll. In other words, directors or deans of every unit will inform the accounting between 21 and 25 of every month for the overtime/extra time that accrued from the 21st of the previous month. Thus, the payments that correspond to the extra work, overtime that take place between the 21st of each month and the end of the month will be included in the following month's salary.

- b. Overtime/Extra time: Currently, the university does not financially compensate overtime or extra time that occurs during working days or holidays except extra class hours taught by academic personnel unless otherwise is stated in the employee's contract. For personnel who are eligible for overtime/extra time compensation, advance approval from a supervisor is required for cases when overtime/extra time is financially compensated. Unauthorized use of compensating overtime hours may result in disciplinary action being taken, up to and including termination. Exceptions are granted for advanced approval if the overtime is in support of unforeseeable or emergency circumstances and approval is obtained within one working day of the event.

However, it is within the director's or dean's authority to compensate overtime work as compensatory time off even if the employee has to accept working extra if needed as stated in the employee's contract.

For instance, if, due to a certain project or job, the employee had to work 4 extra hours on a certain day, the director or dean may allow that employee 4 hours off at a reasonable time when the director or dean sees fit. However, if the employee has to accept extra working requests as stated in his/her employment contract, then the director or dean may choose not to award compensatory time off. Additionally, personnel who is working overtime is entitled to free extra meals in the university dining hall if meal times fall within the overtime work hours. Financial compensation for overtime work of the full-time personnel based on the titles is indicated in the staff contract.

- c. Retirement Benefits : Tishk International University does not regularly provide retirement benefits unless otherwise is stated in the employee's contract. One reason for this implementation is that until this moment there was no way for a private university like Tishk International University to pay for retirement benefits for its employees. However, recent developments in Kurdistan region imply that in the near future around 8% of an employee's salary will be paid for the retirement benefits similar to the application for employees working in the governmental offices in Kurdistan.
- d. Health Benefits: Tishk International University does not provide health benefits outside of school premises unless otherwise is stated in the employee's contract.
- e. Nutritional Benefits: Tishk International University provides one meal for each working day for each full-time, part-time professional, paraprofessional employee. Part-time personnel may have one meal on the days when they are working at the university. The only exception is the labor personnel who reside within the university premises and are entitled to three meals a day. Traditionally, the compensated meal is the lunch meal. However, the personnel that work during evening hours may have a dinner meal instead of a lunch meal. As mentioned above under overtime/extra time section, an employee may have more than one meal a day if working overtime and meal times fall within the overtime work hours.

Other than the conditions stated above, no one without any exceptions does have the right to offer meals to anyone else other than self. This includes family members, friends, and guests. If meals will be offered to guests, one time use tickets may be obtained from the Administrative Vice President. Administrative Vice President deserves the right to ask for a reason, or documentation obtained from the requester's supervisor. Personnel who do not abide by these rules will have to face consequences, including deductions from the salary based on higher rates per meal, and in terms of repeated violations, up to termination of contract.

Employees must submit original receipts to be reimbursed for expenses other than mileage

37. Work Hours

- A. Work hours for full-time academic staff are between 8:30 am and 5:00 pm five days of the week (additionally to Saturday when needed) except official holidays. Week-days are Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Work hours include a one hour break between 12:00 pm and pm for the employee to have lunch and to run other errands. Other than this one hour break if an employee should run errands or spend time for a personal reason between 8:30 am and 5:00 pm, then that time must be compensated for the lunch time. In other words, lunch time must be kept less than one hour on the amount that one spends during regular working hours, which is between 8:30 am and 12:00 pm and 1:00 pm and 5:00 pm. If any personnel work outside of regular business hours, for instance, in the evenings at the continuing education center, then his/her working hours will be determined by his/her supervisor equivalent to the personnel working during regular business hours given that these

On Saturdays, working hours for administrative personnel are as required within the hours between 9:00 am to 13:00 pm. . Employees must follow the university and campus procedures to report or request any leave of absence and complete appropriate leave request form, including the reason for the leave, date of leave, and how they will compensate the lectures not taken.

Those who intend to take leaves should submit the leave request form to their related administrative unit, e.g. departments for academic personnel. Then the administrative unit should submit the form to the higher authority, e.g. deans for academic personnel, by indicating their remarks as approved or not.

And this higher authority must submit the form to the President's Office after they mention their remarks about it. The final decision will be taken by the President.

Any employee who is absent more than two (2) consecutive days because of a personal or family illness must submit a medical certification form from a qualified health care provider confirming the specific dates of the illness, the reason for illness, and in the case of personal illness the employee's fitness to return to work. Medical certification shall be made by a health care provider. Upon request for family and medical leave for the employee's serious health condition or that of a spouse, parent, or child, and at 30-day intervals thereafter, the employee shall provide medical certification of the illness or disability.

a. Paid Leaves:

1. Annual (Summer Holiday) Leaves and Unused Annual Leaves: For academic staff (president, vice presidents, deans, department heads, instructors) summer holiday is an exact 30 days, including travelling time, 20 days for assistants and 15 days for administrative personnel. An employee must be employed 12 months before he/she can take a summer holiday. A specific case about annual leaves is regarding academic personnel that stay for summer school. These personnel keep their right to have 30 days annual leave. However, they must be present at the set time by the deans or directors at the beginning of the school year, even if the personnel cannot have his/her 30 days of holiday at once. The difference in duration, that is from the end of the summer term until the designated time to be present at the university will be counted towards the annual leave even if the employee cannot travel abroad due to shortage of time and stays home unless assigned by the university. After the deduction of the accounted days, remaining days can be spent on other occasions during the year upon permission from the supervisor(s) that the employee has to report to. These days shall preferably be chosen amongst the times when it is a holiday for students, such as Nawrouz, especially in the case of academic personnel so that there is no interruption in the education due to missing classes, etc.

2. Personal (Excuse) Leaves: The university only grants 7 personal leave days besides summer holiday annually to all university employees if there is a valid and acceptable excuse. The university does not grant any local leave days other than personal leave other than the specific allowances stated herein;

 3. 3 days for birth for fathers if birth is in Kurdistan and 7 days if birth is out of Kurdistan
 4. 7 days and the duration of travel applies for marriage of self
 5. 3 days and the duration of travel is applied for the deaths of immediate relatives that are mother, father, son/daughter and sister/brother, 2 days for grandparent, aunt, uncle. All other full-day absence of leave permissions for death events are to be deducted from 7 annual personal leave days if granted.

Working days spent outside of the university premises due to an assignment by the university do not fall within these 7-day limit. Among these exceptions are days spent outside of the university due to purposes of training and education such as;

1. Workshops and other professional development opportunities.
2. Attending masters or doctorate programs authorized by the president
3. Compulsory attendance to legal or other matters developed without control and intent of the employee that are usually enforced by governmental offices.
3. Anticipated Leave:

The academic and administrative staff must take prior permission for the non-urgent (anticipated) leaves at least 7 days before the event occurs.

In deciding to approve anticipated, personal leave, however, the supervisor or designee shall consider the effect of the employee's absence on the educational program, as well as the availability of substitutes.

Anticipated personal leave shall not be allowed in the following circumstances, except in extenuating circumstances as determined by the dean or directors:

1. Days scheduled for end-of-semester or end-of-year exams.
2. University norm-reference testing days.
3. Professional or staff development days.

Unanticipated Leave: Leave that is taken for personal and family illness, emergency, a death in the family, active military service, etc. is considered unanticipated leave. This type of leave allows very little or no advance planning. The higher authorities should be informed as soon as possible in case of an unanticipated leave so that necessary arrangements can be made e.g. for missing classes.

b. Unpaid Leaves:

Unpaid leaves may be granted when exceed the 7 days of personal leaves in the following conditions if documented;

1. To care for a spouse, parent, or child with a serious health condition
2. An employee's serious health condition: A husband and wife who are both employed by the university are subject to limits on the amount of leave that they can take care for a parent with a serious health condition, etc.

Family and medical leave run concurrently with accrued sick and personal leave, temporary disability leave, and absences due to a work-related illness or injury. The university will designate the leave as family and medical leave, if applicable, and notify the employee that accumulated leave will run concurrently.

In some circumstances, employees may take family and medical leave in blocks of time or by reducing their normal weekly or daily work schedule.

Intermittent leave may be taken under the following circumstances:

1. An employee is needed to care for a seriously ill spouse, child, or parents
2. An employee requires medical treatment for a serious illness
3. An employee is seriously ill and unable to work
4. An employee becomes a parent or has a foster child placed in his or her home

When the need for family and medical leave is foreseeable, employees who want to use it must provide 30-day advance notice of their need. When the need for leave is not foreseeable, employees must contact their supervisor as soon as possible. Employees may be required to provide the following:

1. Medical certification from a qualified health care provider supporting the need for leave due to a serious health condition affecting the employee or an immediate family member
2. Second or third medical opinions and periodic recertification of the need for leave
3. Periodic reports during the leave regarding the employee's status and intent to return to work
4. Medical certification from a qualified health care provider at the conclusion of leave of an employee's ability to return to work.

Employees requiring family and medical leave should contact the personnel office for details on eligibility, requirements, and limitations. Medical Release: The employee's request for reinstatement shall be accompanied by medical certification of the employee's ability to perform essential job functions.

39. Tardiness

Tardiness: Tardiness is 15 minutes. Any Lateness over 15 minutes will be considered as "Lateness". Tardiness may be in the morning in the form of coming late to work, during lunch time in the form of early leaves for lunch or late coming backs from lunch, and during dismissal as leaving early for home.

In all these types of tardiness the allowed amount of being tardy for the purpose of accounting is 15 minutes. However, being late is contradicted with professionalism and business ethics, even if it is for one minute. Therefore, any type of tardiness except emergencies is unacceptable and results in disciplinary sanctions. For details please refer to Chapter entitled "Discipline and Termination" . In this regard, all staff members should obtain authorization from their supervisor when leaving assigned university campuses during work hours. Time-in, time-out information, for all of the administrative personnel, including faculty secretaries, will be obtained in the form of a signature. While recording time-in and time-out information, designated personnel will use their computer's clock. A mobile phone may be used in cases when it is not possible to get accurate time information from designated personnel's computer. This procedure will prevent many misunderstandings, etc., as well as protect the professional employee.

40. Substitute Instructors

Generally, the nature of classes taught in universities is not suitable for someone else to substitute for the primary instructor for a certain course. However, in cases of urgent needs and depending on the nature of the course taught, faculty administrators may permit the use of substitute instructors. Upon arrival the substitute shall be furnished with following materials usually by the primary instructor:

1. Syllabus of the course

Thus, summer school concerns mostly academic personnel. Final authority on summer school decisions fall onto the dean of faculties. All academic staff will be assigned courses from the summer school if required.

d. University Disciplinary Committee:

The University Disciplinary Committee is responsible with investigating the issues that are either reported by the relevant authorities via hierarchical order or reported directly by any individual within the university.

University Disciplinary Committee finalizes such cases and is responsible with the execution of the corresponding sanctions abiding with the regulations if charges committed.

Communication of Sanctions

Each sanction is motivated in writing and communicated in writing to the following parties, no matter what the result is:

1. The personnel

Termination of Employment

Resignation: Employees who resign from Tishk should give at least one month notice. The letter of resignation should include and explain fully the reason(s) for leaving and should be turned in to the employee's supervisor.

Resigning employees will be given their final paychecks, no later than the next regularly scheduled payday if the resignation date is prior to the 21st day of the current month. Final paychecks may be given next month if the resignation date is after the 21st day of the current month. All applicable mandatory and optional, authorized deductions will be made from the employee's last paycheck. TIU University reserves the right to pay the resigning employee for the notice period and accept the resignation immediately.

Dismissal of Employees: Unless otherwise provided in a written employment contract with an employee, employees are employed at will and may be dismissed without notice, a description of the reasons for dismissal, or a hearing. It is unlawful for the university to dismiss any employee for reasons of race, religion, sex, national origin, disability, military status, any other basis protected by law, or in retaliation for the exercise of certain protected legal rights as stated in the notice of discrimination in this document. Employees who are dismissed have the right to grieve the termination. The "notice of discrimination" along with other rules stated in this document is to be abided by the employees as well. Thus, as Tishk International University guarantees to follow the "notice of discrimination", the employee also guarantees to abide by it by accepting to be employed at Tishk International University. Therefore, as the employee can appeal to the contract termination procedure, Tishk International University can also seek for its legal rights in case a violation of “notice of discrimination” occurs.

The dismissed employee must follow the university process outlined in this handbook .

Employee resignation policy

This policy applies to all of our employees. A “resignation” occurs when an employee voluntarily informs HR or their head/director that they will stop working for our university.

A.Policy elements

Notice of resignation

Employees are obliged to give advance notice before resigning and to announce their intent to resign at least one month in advance.

For harder-to-fill positions or more high-profile roles, like [VPs, Deans, Head of Department, Directors], we advise our employees to give at least 2 months’ notice, if possible.

Since that the TIU contracts bind the employees to give notice, if they don’t give notice, the University may not be obliged to pay out remaining monthly salary.

Notice: The TIU employment contract may be renewed or terminated reciprocally one month before the end of its validity. Absent a written employment contract, employment with the Tishk International is terminable at will, meaning that the employment relationship can be terminated one-sided by Tishk International University at any time, with or without notice and with or without cause provided that Tishk International University notifies the employee one month ahead. Employees on the other hand however must abide by the terms in their contracts and fulfil the time stated in their contract. If an employee leaves his position before the stated date in his contract, he will be charged in the amount of remaining days on his contract. If an employee decides not to renew his contract, he must inform his supervisor one month ahead of his contract renewal

Revoking resignation

Employees may ask our university to revoke their resignation within the time period until they receive confirmation from HR, which is two days. Our university will decide whether or not to grant this request on a case-by-case basis. After that period, they cannot revoke their resignation. However, we advise against such decisions. If an employee decides to quit, they should make sure their decision is final.

Forced Resignation

Employees have the right to resign when they want and at their own free will. Forced resignation (or constructive dismissal) must not occur at any time. Specifically, the following actions are prohibited:

- Creating a hostile or unpleasant environment.
- Demanding or coaxing an employee to resign.
- Victimizing, harassing or retaliating against an employee.
- Taking adverse actions (e.g. demotions, increased workload) unofficially, outside of our disciplinary process, to force an employee to resign.

We reserve the right to terminate employees when they don't adhere to our policies or the law, or those who place our university at risk.

Rehire

Employees who left on good terms are eligible for rehiring. They may or may not be considered new employees depending on how much time has passed since they were last employed in our university. If they're considered new employees, they may not be given benefits related to their length of employment and seniority.

B.Procedure

- The employee hands in a written and signed notice of resignation to his/her head/director and HR Unit two weeks in advance.
- The head/director approves the resignation notice.

- The head/director informs his/her superior and the HR unit about the resignation in a written letter.
- The HR manager sends a Confirmation of Resignation email containing requirements and obligations which are listed in the Resigning/termination checklist. They are:
 - Returning the ID Card
 - Returning the Car Badge
 - Returning the Office Keys
 - Returning the Master Key or other rooms keys (laboratories, halls, others)
 - Canceling email accounts
 - Retiring Office Furniture
 - PC and Electronic Devices
 - Canceling Webpage Account
 - Returning Library Materials
- In order to receive a final payment, the employee must return all University property. The head/director of the employee is responsible for ensuring this.

45. Complaints & Grievance Procedures

All employees are encouraged to bring their work-related problems or concerns to the immediate attention of their supervisors. In turn, supervisors will try to reach a quick and fair solution. If, however, an employee is not satisfied with the supervisor's solution, he or she may bring the matter to the attention of an upper administrator in the hierarchic level until either the problem is resolved or had to be dismissed by the president as the last hierarchic level. All complaints and responses must be in writing. The regulations for a grievance procedure against disciplinary actions shall be the same as the grievance procedure for the students as stated under Article 10 in the students handbook. Execution and communication of sanctions shall also be the same as the regulations for students as stated under 8, 9 and 11.

Article 10: Appeal Procedures and Committee of Appeal

The committee of appeal is distinguished from the disciplinary committee by the fact that it must include a university with a higher degree, e.g., president of the university if no other option is available.

The student will have the right of appeal against the imposed disciplinary sanction until seven calendar days after the notification of the decision. To this end, the student can submit a motivated request of appeal in writing. The student may appeal to appeal committee.

The disciplinary action regularly takes effect after the notification of the disciplinary committee. However, initiating an appeal procedure will suspend the disciplinary action until the student is officially notified of the final decision by the appeal committee unless the disciplinary committee decides that the situation may possess safety risks to the university community.

Within Tishk International University it is not possible to appeal against a decision by the disciplinary committee of appeal, however, students may choose to appeal the university's decision through legal agencies.

Article 11: Confidentiality

Confidentiality is required in the initiation and developmental stages of the disciplinary case until a final decision is made including the appeal procedure. In other words, reporting and investigating a case; related meetings and all written materials must abide with confidentiality.

46. Procedures for Guests and Visitors

Tishk International University annually receives many guests. Most of these guests come to the university through contacting the related department at our university. Thus, the procedures about these guests are not included under this chapter.

Guests of university personnel are defined as follows;

1. Guests that currently have a relationship with Tishk International University. This relationship may be defined as business, educational, cultural, etc.
2. Guests that may have a relationship with Tishk International University in the future and the reason for the visit is to establish a relationship. This relationship may be defined as business, educational, cultural, etc.
3. Exceptions to these if any, may be approved by the Administrative Vice President.
4. Guests may be given a tour of the university by the responsible department if requested by the Administrative Vice President. Additionally, tickets for meals may be obtained from the Administrative Vice President for these very guests.

Visitors of university personnel are defined as friends, relatives, or other third party visitors of university personnel that do not have any current direct or indirect relationship with the university as well as the reason for their visit is not to establish one.

Such visitors shall not visit university personnel except emergency situations during working hours. Supervisor of personnel may interrupt with the visit during working hours if he/she feels that working process is interrupted.

Visitors do not have the right to take advantage of university facilities unless otherwise is noted, including library, networking, internet, dining hall services and so on unless approved by the Administrative Vice President. In case of approval, for the purposes of this document, this visitor would be considered as a guest as defined above. Facilities that the visitors can use are a cafeteria and main waiting areas.

All visitors are expected to enter any university facility through the main entrance and sign in or report to the building's main office.

Authorized visitors will receive directions or be escorted to their destination. Employees who observe an unauthorized individual on the university premises should immediately direct him or her to the building office or contact the administrator in charge. Any administrative or security personnel have the right to ask an unsupervised visitor an identity with a photograph if suspected. Violations of visitors are to be reflected to the related university personnel or the "acting host".

Regularly, each and every attendant to classes must be enrolled in the university as a student no matter what the status of the student is. Please refer to student handbook for different types of student status.

However, if for any reason, for instance, a legal guardian of a minor, of a 17 year old, which is under 18 years old, or any legal authority requests to attend a lecture, he/she may be permitted if a written request is made until 24 hours before the lecture takes place to the office of Administrative Vice President. If an approved office of Administrative Vice President will transmit this request to the related faculty to be implemented.

For visits to other personnel, visitors are strongly recommended to get an appointment beforehand.

Secretaries are employed within all administrative units that can process these types of demands.

47. Outside Employment and Tutoring

Employees who wish to accept outside employment or engage in other activities for profit must submit a written request to their supervisors unless their personal contract does not already permit such an action. Approval for outside employment will be determined by the personnel hiring committee and primarily based on whether outside employment interferes with the duties of the regular assignment. Instructors are not allowed to privately tutor students of the campus for pay without approval from the university Senate.

48. University Activities

Staff members are recommended to attend and participate in as many university activities as possible. An instructor's presence projects support and interest to the students, the university, and the community. Many staff members will be involved in university related organizations, and clubs.

Other employees that have concerns about a particular student's conduct should contact the faculty administrators or disciplinary committee if needed. Instructors must file a written report with the faculty administrators or disciplinary committee when they have knowledge that a student has violated the Student Code of Conduct. Discipline should be handled by the professional staff members to the extent possible. The staff member should confer with the student, administrators, and other related third party people such as legal guardians in all unusual problems. Cooperation and understanding between these parties and the university can often eliminate problems before they develop into unpleasant situations.

Student records are confidential and are protected from unauthorized inspection or use. Employees should take precautions to maintain the confidentiality of all student records. The following people are the only people who have general access to a student's records:

Parents and students with complaints that cannot be resolved should be directed to the higher hierarchical level. The organizational and hierarchical scheme of the university may be found at the university website or written documents available at the office of Administrative Vice President.
